Living Costs Rise While Consumer Services Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs rose four-tenths of one per cent last month as virtually all consumer goods and services except food increased in price, the Labor Department reported today. Retail food prices went down two-tenths of one per cent, but costs continued up for housing, clothing, medical care, automobiles and many other items measured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The October increase, the ninth straight monthly rise, brought the index up to 114.5, meaning it cost $114.5 last month to purchase items worth $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

Hard-Nosed Policy Stated By Taylor

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, holding that the bombing of North Viet Nam by the United States blue chips for any peace talks, warns "don't pay a blue chip by giving up the bombing to get negotiations started."

He called for a "clear eye and a hard-nosed policy" in any approach to negotiations. "We should come out not only with our shirt, but with a free and independent South Viet Nam," the retired general said.

Taylor, a special adviser to President Johnson and former ambassador to South Viet Nam, spoke Tuesday night at a dinner of the Manufacturing Chemist Association.

The air attacks on the north have given a "great morale boost" to the Saigon government and has immobilized 100,000 to 200,000 Viet namese, the general said. Abandonment of the bombing of the north "would have a tremendous negative effect on South Viet Nam and they might possibly quit fighting," he declared.

Taylor said ground action is going increasingly well as a result of more troops and air strikes. "We are putting the brake on the expansion of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong."

U.S. Fliers Increase War Air Attacks

SARONG, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. fliers stepped up their attacks in North and South Viet Nam while on the ground forces launched a series of small-scale clashes.

B-52 bombers pounded Communist positions in support of the American ground forces in Operation Attleboro in Tay Ninh Province and those in Operation Revere in the central highlands.

The weather improved over North Viet Nam Tuesday for the first time in nearly two weeks and U.S. pilots flew 59 bombing missions, an increase over recent days, but still far below the 150 missions of a typical flying day.

One American plane was reported downed during the week. Air Force F-4 Phantom jet, both fliers were killed as missing. It was the 47th plane reported downed since Nov. 11.

Rome Is Hit By Torrential Downpour

ROME (AP)—Rome, which escaped the heavy rain and flooding that hit north Italy early this month, was drenched today with a torrential downpour which flooded homes and shops in the suburbs, stalled traffic and crippled telephone service.

The heavy rain, which hit Rome River below its under the arches of the Eternal City's ancient bridges, but high banks drenched the central part of the city.

The almost unprotected working-class suburbs north of the city were flooded as the Tiber and the tributary Aniene River went over their banks.

Temperatures intensified the misery in the Bellano region of the Dolomites, in the north. The glacier there melted and the homeless there.

But the colder weather, which threatened to smother still rain-weakened homes.

After a one-day respite, scattered snow fell again in the lower Po Valley and set waters rising once more in the stricken delta. About 10,000 residents were forced from villages near farmland homes there. Flood waters are washing into second-story windows in some areas.

The new rains virtually wiped out the gains made by 2,000 soldiers and thousands of volunteers in the fight against the floods and raising, or repairing, dikes and seawalls.

Blood Quota Is Exceeded At Kimberly

KIMBERLY—Kimberly area residents exceeded the 10,000 quota by 13 points in Tuesday's Red Cross blood drive in the Kimberly grade school.

The drive was in honor of the late Mrs. Jean Day, who had worked in the blood program for many years and also was a donor.

Fifty-four pints of blood were given as replacements with four donors. The drive was held at the three-gallon pin was Woodland Gerwin, Louis Bulch, and John D. (Mick) Bean and John Reagan. Marion Simpson received the one-gallon pin.

Gemini 12 Spacewalker Reveals Strange Phenomenon He Noted

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—Gemini 12's champion spacewalker revealed today he saw a strange phenomenon while working outside his spaceship. Rubbing his fingers together sparked a faint glow. "I noticed the peculiar thing during the night pass," Air Force Maj. Edwin E. (Buzz) Aldrin Jr. told a news conference. "I think it's something we should look at." Aldrin, who teamed with

Successes in Space Viewed By Johnson

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson, marking the end of the Gemini space program, predicted today still greater U.S. successes in space including the Apollo moon landing.

In his first formal speech since his twin operations a week ago, Johnson said, "Gemini has prepared well for the more ambitious Apollo flights to come."

"The months ahead will not be easy as we reach toward the moon. We must broaden and extend our knowledge based on the increased power of those mighty new boosters. But with Gemini as the forerunner, I am confident that we will overcome the difficulties and achieve another success," he said.

Johnson spoke at a ceremony on the 137 Ranch in which the Gemini 12 astronauts, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., received the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Exceptional Service Award from him.

Eight other persons prominently connected with the Gemini program also received NASA awards.

Canada Asks Both China Regimes Be Seated in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Despite a new blast by Red China against the United Nations, Canada pushed today for the seating of both the Peking government and Nationalist China as part of a temporary solution to the China representation controversy. Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin took note of the latest Peking statement in advancing his suggestion before the U. N. General Assembly. He departed from his prepared text briefly to say he was aware of the statements from Peking in the past 24 hours. But he did not comment further.

He endorsed an Italian plan for a high-level study of the China question—rejected by Peking as "absurd"—but declared the proposal should spell out more specifically a set of guidelines to be followed in seeking a solution to the 16-year stalemate.

Martin said Canada had laid down a three-point plan during private consultations it had been carrying on in recent days with leading U.N. members.

The guidelines he suggested calling for an interim settlement on the following basis: —Participation of Nationalist China in the General Assembly as a member "representing a territory over which it exercises effective jurisdiction."

—Participation of Red China in the assembly on the same basis. —Participation of Red China in the Security Council as a permanent member.

Martin stressed that his plan was intended only as a stopgap solution pending agreement on the territorial dispute between Red China and the Nationalist government on Formosa.

"I want to make it clear at this point," he said, "that the solution we envisage is in no way intended to limit the existence of two Chinas."

Celebrity FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Only...in Alaska could a turkey become a walrus.

That happens today when Turkey Tom, all 28 robbing pounds of him, is inducted into the Order of the Alaska Walrus.

It started when some soldiers at Ft. Wainwright covered their own turkey with a live walrus north of the Alaska mountain range. They had one flown in by jet today, right as it was greeted by the walrus and all sorts of dignitaries.

Tom eventually will become a resident of a zoo at next summer's centennial site here.

Tom's escort on his tour of duty will be Pfc. Noel Bird.

Missing Girl, 14, Found in Texas

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP)—A 14-year-old girl who disappeared Nov. 14 in Florida was found in Carlsbad today, after a search by police and hikers.

Mrs. Eldon Weeks said her daughter, Connie, apparently had been gone for several days. She had talked much about her cross-country trip.

The mother said she would say nothing further until she talked more to her daughter.

Burley Man Injured in Farm Mishap

RUPERT—Terry Parker, 25, Burley, was reported in good condition Wednesday afternoon at Cassia Memorial Hospital, Burley, where he was taken after a tractor he was operating rolled onto him at 10:30 a.m.

Sheriff Theo Johnson said the man, who is employed by Bruneau Sheep Co., 1550 North and 400 West, received head injuries. He had parked the tractor on a hill where he was working and had turned the motor off.

The tractor started to roll back down the hill, the sheriff said, rolling onto Parker.

Antia Mantel, librarian of the Chicago Vegetarian Society, explained that vegetarians don't have special menus for holidays.

"If someone came to visit us on any traditional Turkey day," Mantel said, "I would feed them cheese, fresh fruits, crackers and uncooked meats."

"I'm a vegetarian for 16 years, plans a menu of scrambled eggs and salad, as well as the value is cooked away."

G. A. (GUS) KELKER

Gus Kelker Named As Executive Editor

D. A. (Gus) Kelker, who has been feature and farm editor of the Times-News for the past five years, has been named executive editor effective immediately. The announcement of Mr. Kelker's advancement to the top position in the newspaper's editorial department was made by Jack Mullenow, publisher. The publisher also said that Mr. Kelker would announce appointment of a new managing editor on Thursday. In assuming the post, Mr. Kelker is succeeding Mr. Lowell Dick, who has been managing editor since 1946. Mr. Dick's present plans have not been announced.

Mr. Kelker has been a resident of Twin Falls since 1955, when he came here from Pocatello to take a job as reporter on the Twin Falls News. When the News was purchased by the Idaho Evening Times, he was transferred to the Times as city editor.

Following World War II, in which he served as an Air Corps instructor, he returned to Twin Falls and continued his newspaper work until he resigned to open a camera shop and photographic studio in the downtown section.

In 1955 he opened a new studio-home add was operating this business when he returned to the Twin Falls News. He was the dual-editor position.

In addition to local papers, Mr. Kelker also has been associated with the Idaho State Journal, Pocatello; the old Pocatello Tribune, the Salt Lake Tribune and the Boise Statesman, either as writer or photographer.

He has received various writing and photographic awards for the best news picture of the year and early this year received the two top awards given by the Idaho Press Club. One was for the best news picture of the year and the other for the best news picture published in the state.

He has been active in community work and is a former president of the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club, a former director of the Chamber of Commerce and is a past president of the Twin Falls County Historical Society. He can be reached at 2-6111.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY—High pressure is situated over the Pacific and the air remains rather cold and is still moist at lower elevations, as evidenced by a deck of low clouds over much of the Snake River Valley and light snow at times at some eastern locations during the forenoon. Most of this cloud deck should break out this afternoon, and more sunshine is expected on Thursday. Temperatures this afternoon will be several degrees cooler than yesterday. In Magic Valley, but probably no less lowered by the wind. In most areas today, tonight will bring a harder freeze than last night with temperatures dropping to the 20s in Magic Valley. There will be some areas of late night and early morning fog. Some snow showers are forecast for Thursday and Friday. As this trend is expected to continue Friday. Soil temperatures have cooled several degrees in the past two days but remain above freezing at all reporting points. Reported mean temperatures at three- and four-inch depths for the past 24 hours range from 36 at Aberdeen to 41 at Kimberly and 46 at Caldwell.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST—A ridge of high pressure now off the West Coast will move slowly eastward during the next few days. Surface pressure will average fairly high over the Northwest States with storms from the Pacific and Pacific Northwest. Temperatures Thursday through Monday will average near normal over most of Southern Idaho. Daytime temperatures will be a little warmer Thursday and Friday, nighttime temperatures at three- and four-inch depths for the past 24 hours range from 36 at Aberdeen to 41 at Kimberly and 46 at Caldwell.

Income, Sales Tax Revenue Averages up

BOISE (AP)—Income and sales tax revenue is continuing to run ahead of predictions, the monthly report of Idaho Tax Collector Floyd West showed Tuesday. Sales tax revenue now is averaging about $2.8 million a month, West said, compared with an average of $2.5 million for the 1965 Legislature in estimating total collections. If the trend continues, sales tax revenue for the biennium which ends June 30 will total about $60.5 million, instead of the predicted $57 million. Income tax revenue for the first four months of the current biennium totaled $3.5 million, West said, compared with $3 million a year earlier. If that trend continues, income tax collections could run considerably ahead of the predicted total of $55 million for the biennium. Revenue from most other tax levies also was up in the first four months of the current year, compared with a year earlier.

She was married to Walter Mullins at Springdale, Ark., in 1911. They moved to Buhl in 1912 and later were divorced. She moved to Buhl in 1918 and was then married to R. G. Kimbrough in Nevada in 1921. He died in April, 1948. She was a member of the LDS Church.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Buhl LDS Church by Bishop Buhl. Final rites will be held at Buhl Cemetery. Friends may call at the Albion-Dickard Funeral Home until 9 p.m. Friday and until noon Saturday.

Low Bidders for Projects Noted

BOISE (AP)—The State Highway Department listed apparent low bidders Tuesday on two road construction projects. Nelsh and Miller Construction Co., Twin Falls, with an offer of $307,384, was listed as apparent low bidder on construction of three bridges on the county line road between the Bassett interchange and the Snake River in Bonanza and Jefferson counties. Earl L. McNett Co., Eugene, Ore., was listed as apparent low bidder at $1,371,517, on construction of 11.77 miles of U.S. Highway 20-26 in Gooding and Lincoln counties. The work involves construction of roadway, drainage structures, aggregate base and four concrete bridges from Gooding eastward.

First Symphony Concert of Season Draws High Praise

By Mrs. James Kinney—The Twin Falls Civic Symphony presented the first concert of this season Tuesday night at the Teton High School Auditorium to an exceptionally enthusiastic and appreciative audience. Highlight of the evening was the appearance of guest soloist Ben Frank who performed with the Symphony the "Cello Concerto in D Minor" written by Edward Lalo. Mr. Frank is one of the most outstanding cellists in this country, and it is a tribute to the Twin Falls Civic Symphony and the orchestra that the artist and the orchestra were able to produce such a finished and beautiful interpretation. Ben Frank is indeed a great cellist, and the three-movement concerto revealed all his technical authority and complete mastery of his instrument as well as his artistic and exquisite phrasing. In this particular concerto, the complete repertoire of the orchestra was used to its fullest. After a short orchestral introduction, the cello solo begins with a recitative. Then in the last two movements, lively, rhythmic passages contrast with slow melodic passages, the entire work ending with a brilliant Scherzo.

Death Claims Mrs. Faloon At Age of 92

Mrs. Nora Mae Faloon, 92, 402 Walnut St., died early Wednesday morning at her home. She was born Feb. 17, 1874, in Washington, D.C. Her husband, William Addison Faloon, a well-known veterinarian, died in 1945. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Grand Army of the Republic, past president of the National Chapter of the GAR, member of the Mothers, Spanish American Veterans Auxiliary and was active in the Democratic Party.

WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON—Hopefully, the 8 to 4 majority of the Supreme Court established a new position in its decision upholding the treasuries conviction of 11 Negro students from Florida—A. M. University who rallied outside a Tallahassee school in December, 1965. It is that some new federal laws protecting civil rights—make it not only possible, but imperative, that demonstrators take their cases out of the streets and into the courts.

That point was implicit in the Andrew Tully majority opinion delivered by Justice Hugo L. Black, the Alabama who once joined the Ku Klux Klan out of political expediency and since has become the Court's leading defender of civil rights for Negroes. Reluctantly, through the favor of Black's ruling alone, secured police that there are public places where demonstration may not function without official permission.

On a 5-4 opinion put it, the Court was rejecting the "major unarticulated premise" that people who want to "propagate protests or views have a Constitutional right to do so whenever and wherever they please."

OPEN-AND-SHUT CASE—It was an open-and-shut case in any other American area there would have been no question about the Court's ruling. The students refused to disperse when ordered to do so by the sheriff and some began to sit down in the jailhouse driveway. They were convicted of violating a Florida trespass law.

Black's opinion, in which he was joined by Justices Tom Clark, John Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron White, was not only a rebuke to the authorities were discriminating by race and so concluded that "Nothing in the Constitution of the United States prevents Florida from overhauling enforcement of its public places statute." This has the feel of a refreshing breeze in these wild days.

JAILS OUT OF BOUNDS—Nor was the majority swayed by a 1963 decision striking down breach-of-the-peace convictions of 187 demonstrators at the State Capitol grounds in Columbia, S. C. Traditionally, said the opinion, "state capital grounds are open to the public" for assembly and petition but "jails, built for security for society purposes, are not." Although the decision did not state it, seemed to uphold the right of demonstrators to refuse to leave school yards, courthouse grounds, parks and other public places.

That brings us to the blubbing dissent of that professional ultra-liberal, Justice William Douglas, who delivered a typically emotional dissent. Douglas said that the majority decision set "a great and wonderful police state doctrine" and demanded the values of free speech and his glibular juices diluted his argument.

DOUGLAS-DISSENTS—LAMENTATIONS—While arguing for the right of the people to demonstrate in public places, Douglas said he was not suggesting that demonstrators be permitted to disrupt the normal operation of the government. In the "State gallery of the Supreme Court building," but the dissenters said that all public places are off-limits to people with grievances. How so, Douglas? In the first place, not all public places are off-limits to "all public places," but only in jailhouse yards. And if the Senate and the Supreme Court are off-limits, although not built for security purposes, surely a jail should be similarly insulated.

Douglas also broached the principle of legal equality. He said that the dissenters were "these orderly and civilized protests against injustice." Here, he assumed an "injustice" that has not been proved. Besides, the question of "injustice" is not the business of the Court ruling exclusively on Florida's right to eject trespassers from the jailhouse grounds. Black's dissent was not a dissent at all, it was a dissent because Black is guided by the law, not by some oleaginous political emotion.

Views of Others

HAIR TO SPARE
"Ladies fair are free to wear their locks of hair—unless they choose or care. Young men had best beware that they're not due to cause the crowd to stare or glare."
We hasten to assure our readers that we have no desire to write either copy for roadside advertising or to cause any harm to anyone. We believe that the sentiment we express (if not the style) will commend itself to countless adults, young and old.

We are reminded that in 1949 the Harvard College Book, following Cor. 11:14, left no doubt as to its position: "Forasmuch as the wearing of long hair by women is a sign of effeminacy and is contrary to the laws of God and man, and is a disgrace to the female sex, we therefore advise and exhort all women to keep their hair short and to avoid all such unbecoming and indecent practices."

That the controversy continues today is news to no one. We merely note that the youth supported by the American Civil Liberties Union have won the recent round in the schools of the United States. Some of the reasons for these cases the hair was clean, neat, and well-groomed had some influence on the decision of higher authority to overrule "adamant school principals." Some of the reasons for the others an invitation to license. We withhold our own opinion on the ground that it might incriminate us—Christian Science Monitor.

DICTATES OF THE YOUNG
Quite a number of years ago, our school class learned that the word "dictate" comes from the Latin word "dictare," which means "to dictate." We remember quite vividly, made no impression whatever on our elders.
Things have changed since we have changed or, rather, the politicians and school officials of North Vernon, Ind., think that they have. At the general election, so that the pupils' parents could vote, the school board decided to postpone a mock vote until Nov. 8, the same day as the general election, so that the pupils' families would not be disturbed by the election. If the politicians are right, parental permission has become a subject of submission—no more. The school board's decision is a bit much too late to help Mr. Landon—Wall Street Journal.

AFTER THEY'VE SEEN TOKYO
In a rural village in Japan, few households have a television set. Two or three families have a study only three years old, but two automobiles for every 100 farming households. The number of TV sets per 100 farming families was 100 three years ago, today is estimated at over 80.
Like America, Japan is experiencing the major problem of the world—too many people in the metropolitan areas. Maybe the TV sets will lure some Japanese back to the farms. There are suggestions.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The old argument that the federal government should "keep its nose out of states' business" so that it can have more independence is going to look pretty odd if an idea now gaining momentum in Congress will call it a victory for the federal government.

One of the ways in which the federal government helps states is by making grants-in-aid. The idea has different shades of meaning that if a state has a need for some specific program, the federal government approves, the government will give the state money to help pay the bill, provided the state matches the amount with state funds.

The idea being backed around now—not new but with support of both the Democratic and Republican sides—is that "the federal government should just hand over to the states some of the money it gets from taxes for the states to use for programs in which they don't have to match the federal help."

Opinions of a Conservative

By BARRY GOLDWATER

Just 10 years ago Soviet tanks rumbled across Hungary and the bodies of men, women and children to raise the sharpest cry for freedom that has been heard behind the Iron Curtain.

In astonishing contrast to the freedom fighters' heartbreaking cry for freedom as they lay dying in the streets was the reaction that marked this nation's response.

The silence still shrouds our foreign policy.
To hear President Johnson talk, or to watch him avoid the issue, the question of Eastern European freedom is non-existent.

We have yet to hear one official sound from this administration that would tell Eastern Europeans that we still regard them as captives of communism.

We have yet to hear one hint that we regard their lands as captive nations.

Each year, even the formality of a captive nations resolution, at least a vocal sign of our commitment to freedom in Eastern Europe, becomes an empty gesture. It has been the practice of this administration not to point an accusing finger at the Soviets in these resolutions, as though Soviet troops occupying Eastern Europe—8 in 1965.

And this year, while the anniversary of the Hungarian Revolution (Oct. 23 to Nov. 3) came along, President Johnson also came and went, busy about the business of polking here and in Asia, but without a meaningful word for the loss of freedom.

WASHINGTON

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

On Thanksgiving Day many years ago my father bought my dear mother a charming portrait by Sir John Everett Millais. It was a picture of a young girl, and I liked it. Today, my oh-my! Reminiscence of a better boy than Fort Knox.

There are now millions of pictures in the world, the vast majority of them are worthless. The problem now is not to find them in the first place.

If you've wondered about the astounding prices that mystify you when you see the news, it is relatively simple. The true classic masterpieces are one thing. But these are so sought into museums that dealers and auctioneers cannot possibly make a living marketing the available few.

There are almost not enough turnover among the authentic masterpieces. Moreover, much polynony is added to the picture prices when you remember, as one instance, that the great Vincent van Gogh managed to sell only one painting in his lifetime.

Thus the first effect of today's scarcity market is to strain the question of authenticity.

Verstaple diplomat Sir Peter Paul Rubens, for example, using his own words, said that he painted the pictures done by his employed subordinates were his own, and signed them.

Francisco de Goya was a police informer. Once a fugitive, his life was frequently too endangered to make the few exceptions, critics have built a wall around themselves. Inside the wall they play the emperor's new-clothes game and seem to view those on the outside (the public) with apathy, or the sort of pity usually felt for the blind.

"No wonder," Mr. Wright suggests, "that many critics blow their tops about successive generations of British art, and abstract-expressionist paintings by instant artists. No wonder their current can't be to defy the wall, or any empty canvas, if they wish."

Something tells me all this may get quite sticky for the buyers before they get through.

No Decisions Made to Move U.S. Forces

SAIGON—South Viet Nam (AP)—No decisions have been made to move U.S. troops out of the country, but forces into Viet Nam's fertile, heavily-populated Mekong River delta, a high U.S. military official said today.

He said there are "contingency plans" for such movement and the action will be taken if it is decided U.S. troops are needed and if the manpower is available.

There have been widespread reports in recent weeks that American troops soon will be moved into the delta area, the only portion of Viet Nam where U.S. soldiers are not carrying on a major share of the fighting.

The Vietnamese commander of the 4th Corps Area, of which the delta is part, was transferred last week, reviving speculation that the way was being prepared for the introduction of American forces.

The American official said there was no reluctance on the part of the Vietnamese government to having U.S. troops into the delta, but he noted there had been differences of opinion in Washington and Saigon on the wisdom of such a move.

Some quarters feel the delta should be left to the Vietnamese for the prestige and so that they would be fighting their own war. It also is feared that a stepup in major operations in the delta might result in high civilian casualties because more than half of South Viet Nam's 15 million people live there. Questions also have been raised about the reaction of the population to the presence of large numbers of American troops.

The U.S. official said, however, the largest enemy guerrilla force in the country is concentrated in the delta and there recently has been an increase in attacks on isolated outposts and towns.

American ground forces have carried out operations on the fringes of the delta and there are U.S. advisors and helicopter units stationed there. South Viet Nam has three divisions stationed in the delta.

The U.S. Command made public statistics saying that the number of known infiltrators from North Viet Nam from January through September of this year now stands at 45,000. A table of figures showed the number of infiltrators varied from 15,000 in June to 3,000 in July.

Smithsonian Institute Is Embarking on New Venture

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Smithsonian Institution, a treasure house of relics, is embarking on a new venture which is intended to have impact on cities and small towns throughout the nation.

The program is keyed to museums and how they can pay off in the far-reaching benefits of stimulating educational growth and the immediate benefits of producing income for towns and cities.

Frank A. Taylor, director of the United States National Museum of the Smithsonian Institution, says the Smithsonian is intensifying cooperation with more than 5,000 existing museums, and also is engaged in training curators and other museum workers.

The 86th Congress passed, and President Johnson signed, legislation providing for a million-dollar, four-year start on the program. The underlying aims are to help improve present museums and to encourage com-

Raft River Electric Can Serve in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A Utah Power and Light Co. subsidiary, Raft River Electric Cooperative Inc., of Malin, Idaho, is to amend its application to serve portions of northern Utah's Box Elder County.

Raft River requested the action Tuesday at Utah Public Service Commission hearings after Lithium Corp. of America announced tentative plans to build a constant with Utah Power and Light Co.

Both Raft River and Utah Power and Light seek franchises to serve proposed plants for extracting minerals from Great Salt Lake.

Raft River's amended application does not ask for authority to serve the area held by Lithium, although Harry D. Feltenstein Jr., Lithium's president, was a major witness for Raft River's application.

Feltenstein told the commission Utah Power and Light Co. had presented satisfactory proposals for providing both electric and steam requirements.

The proposals, he said, appeared to be more advantageous to Lithium than those by Raft River. Feltenstein has not announced definite construction plans.

Signal Oil and Gas Co. informed the commission it had relinquished its lease in Weber County and was no longer a prospective Raft River customer. Counsel for Signal said the firm has applied for leases in Tootie County.

The commission recessed the hearing until Dec. 21 when Raft River will testify for its amended application.

Utah Power and Light is to present witnesses in support of its application Jan. 16, 1966, while cross-examination is scheduled in mid-February.

Raids Into Israel to Be Increased

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The chief of the Palestinian Liberation Organization declared Tuesday night that commando raids into Israel would be increased.

In a speech broadcast by Cairo radio, Ahmed Shukairy said the organization supports the Al Fatah underground terrorist group that has been making guerrilla raids from Syria into Israel.

"Palestinian commandos have waited too long and they have run out of patience," he said. "They have no alternative but to begin the battle of liberation and sacrifice their blood for regaining the usurped homeland."

Recent raids by Al Fatah and the PLO against Israeli settlements in Jordanian villages, which Israel claimed were used as bases by the Arab guerrillas, the U.N. Security Council is now debating Jordan's charges of aggression against Israel.

In the past, Shukairy's organization has disassociated itself from the guerrilla groups, but his statement Tuesday night could indicate an intention of joining forces.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, November 23

Born today, you have a certain restlessness of nature that makes it all but impossible for you to take a complete vacation from work. You need projects both to occupy your hands and to fill your mind; indeed, without them you are apt to feel lost and useless. Take care, however, that you don't overdo things. Rest and relaxation, far from being the vacation you may consider them, are vital to you as you bring all those projects of yours to successful completion.

You should have a great many opportunities to display your talent for directing others in the ways they should go — if you string along with your major interests and don't become sidetracked. Your bent would seem to be toward social work of some sort, including guidance, for you have an instinct for getting to the heart of others, and an acute awareness of their necessities.

Emotionally, you are relatively independent. Nevertheless, you need people close to you if only for moral support in your ventures. Don't one to keep your feelings, your hopes and dreams, to yourself; you not only enjoy sharing yourself, but you have a definite need to share. Marriage, for you should be a true fulfillment.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birth day and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Thursday, November 24
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Put all else from your mind as you enjoy the holiday. Business matters will only become more complicated otherwise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Join the family for the festivities. Don't allow business problems to plague you, no matter what the provocation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — A romantic day for the Aquarius who is so inclined. Take care not to jump in over your head, however.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — A day for fulfilling at least one ambition, no matter how small. Don't disregard directional signals from strangers.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — Not the day for morbid introspection. Take the bull by the horns and see to the elimination of a social obligation.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Weigh decisions well, particularly should they have to do with personal relationships. Associates may cause minor difficulties.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — A day for displaying your social graces to your fullest. You may be in for a surprise when you come into contact with others.

CANCER (June 23-July 23) — Take care that you don't unwillingly make an extravagant purchase. You could easily be talked into heedless spending today.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Give some time and attention to domestic matters. New methods for doing old chores may perk up your day considerably.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Much of what you do today may well have a bearing on the welfare of children. Take care, therefore, not to shirk your duty.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Make a genuine effort to move away mentally from a negative approach to life. Now is the time for real advancement on your part.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) — An increase in your financial status may well surprise you today. Try putting some money aside for a rainy day.

Donation Made

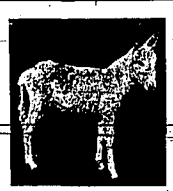

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Syracuse University has received a million dollars from a 1958 graduate, now a Texas petroleum geologist.

William B. Heroy, 83, of Dallas gave the money toward construction of a $2.2-million geology building.

Named to Post

E. W. Barney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Barney, Twin Falls, sales representative for the Salt Lake district by American Oil Co., J. R. Anderson, district manager, Salt Lake City, announced Tuesday.

Barney joined the marketing department of American Oil in November, 1964, after receiving a B.S. degree in business from the University of Idaho, Moscow. He was born at Kendrick and resides in Murray, Utah.

Reuther Says Meany Failing Obligation

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, says the American labor movement, under the leadership of George Meany, is failing in its responsibility to the American people.

Long at odds with Meany, national president of the AFL-CIO, on Viet Nam, Reuther said Tuesday that other issues are "only a small part" of the reason for his feud with Meany.

He said labor's failure to promote a strong civil rights campaign, a strong stand on education, increased Social Security benefits and a greater effort to end poverty is "fundamentally what's wrong with the American labor movement."

Reuther spoke before some 400 students of the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Finance and Commerce.

Recipe, 2, Report

Banana Oatmeal Bread
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup unsifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats
1 large egg
1 medium-large banana
In a loaf pan, 9 by 5 by 3 inches, melt the butter over low heat and set aside. Thoroughly stir together the tasty when warm.

flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Stir in sugar, rolled oats and walnuts.
In a mixing bowl thinly slice the bananas. Beat until smooth thin puree. (There should be about one and one-half cups.) Add egg to the bananas and beat thoroughly. Add the melted butter and blend the bananas and butter. Add the flour mixture and blend. Turn into pan. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about 45 minutes. (Note: This bread is extra thick. It is taken on his recent trip there.)

Ray McDonald Is Honored as AP Back of Week

It took Ray McDonald, a junior three years to see her son in a college football game, but she certainly picked the right one. McDonald's mother was in the stands Saturday when the huge Idaho fullback raced for 255 yards and three touchdowns in the Vandals' 42-12 romp over Weber State. The performance made McDonald the Associated Press' Back of the Week.

Changes Are Expected in Statistics

Steve Musseau, Idaho's coach, arranged for the reunion between McDonald and his mother. She traveled from McKinney, Tex., to Idaho to watch her son's final college game.

On Friday, Musseau collared McDonald. "There's a pro scout in the office who wants to talk to you," the coach told his senior fullback. When McDonald walked into the office, there was his mother. "I think I squeezed all the air right out of her when I saw her," McDonald said. On Saturday, he squeezed all the air out of her five yards a trip. He leads the nation's rushers. The three TDs gave him 15 for the season and 22 for his career—only 10 in record. He has 218 yards gained, 602 carries and 222 points are also school records.

Of 255 yards, 246 came from McDonald had a simple explanation for his great final game performance. "I did it for the money," he said. "I'm a little bit greedy."

Other outstanding performance last Saturday was turned in by Norman Dow, who quarterbacked UCLA to a 14-7 victory over Southern California. Quarterback Frank Quarterback rushed for 221 yards in a 41-17 victory against Maryland, and Wichita quarterback John Eke, who threw for 405 yards in a 37-23 victory over Colorado State.

Lilly Gets Honors for His Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — In the average National Football League game, the quarterback is intercepted something less than three times on any given afternoon. Last Sunday, Pittsburgh quarterback Ron Smith was intercepted 12 times by the Dallas Cowboys.

Bob Lilly, the 6-foot-5, 255-pound tackle from Texas Christian, picked Mr. Smith four times. He also rushed him so fiercely that Smith was called for intentional grounding a pass "Lilly's game was just out of this world," said Dallas coach Tom Landry. "He was in top notch form and seemed to be in their backfield on every play."

The Cowboys awarded the game ball to Lilly so it followed only naturally that The Associated Press named the big boy the defensive player of the week in the NFL.

Robinson Has Surgery on Knee

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore Oriole outfielder Frank Robinson, who won the American League's triple crown, batting this past season, had a cracked medio cartilage removed from his right knee Tuesday.

A spokesman at Johns Hopkins Hospital said a small piece of cartilage which had broken loose also was removed during a 45-minute operation that was successful.

Robinson's knee was not put in a cast, but rather was just wrapped in a loose bandage so he can exercise the leg.

Comic Hoop Team to Play Faux Cigar

Everybody loves a clown and the people of Twin Falls will get a chance to see a complete team of clowns at 7 p.m. Sunday when the Harlem Clowns take on Faux Cigar of Buhi in the "Twin Falls" High School gymnasium.

The Clowns, who recently completed an Orient tour, are being sponsored by the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce as a fund raising project.

The Clowns sport such fun-loving athletes as Ray (Showboat) Clay, smallest member of the team, Earl (Big Mac) McKelvey and Willie Malone. Al Pullins got the team on the road in 1934 with five players and a Model T Ford. Since that time the Clowns have traveled a million miles, scored another million points and have won over 500 games. No record is kept of losses.

Faux Cigar is one of the best known outlaw basketball teams in Magic Valley and boasts three players in the 6-4, 6-5 range: University of Idaho star and now basketball coach at Idaho and Utah.

Montana State, winner of the Big Sky crown this year, placed only three on the offensive first team, but six on the defensive first team.

Idaho, which finished second, had three on the first offensive unit and four on the defensive squad while Weber State, No. 3 in the conference, had five on offense and only one on the defensive first team.

Bout Winner to Receive Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Dooley, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, announced Tuesday his group would recognize the winner of Monday's Curtis Cokes-Jean Jostelin match in Dallas, Tex., as the world welterweight champion.

The title has been vacant in New York since Emile Griffith captured the middleweight title from Dick Tiger.

Haas Leads All-Big Sky Vote; McDonald, Lavens High on List

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Montana State halfback Don Haas was the only unanimous choice for the 1966 Associated Press All-Big Sky Conference football team announced Tuesday.

Fullback Ray McDonald of Idaho, the AP's Back of the Week this week, was a near-unanimous choice.

So were Weber State quarterback Tim Jones and fullback Lee White.

White, who led wingback Phil Tuckett, also of Weber State, for offensive first team in voting by sportswriters of Associated Press member newspapers in the Big Sky region of Montana, Idaho and Utah.

Montana State, winner of the Big Sky crown this year, placed only three on the offensive first team, but six on the defensive first team.

Idaho, which finished second, had three on the first offensive unit and four on the defensive squad while Weber State, No. 3 in the conference, had five on offense and only one on the defensive first team.

Jones and McDonald were repeaters from last year's All-Big Sky first team.

So were offensive guard Bruce Handley and end Ron McCall of Weber State and defensive line Dick Arndt of Idaho and linebacker Wayne Purdon of Montana State.

Picks for this year's offensive first team line: ends Tony McKinnon of Weber State and Tim Lavens of Idaho; tackles Jim Schmieding of Weber State and Clark Smith of Montana State; guards Tony Weitenbach of Montana State and Handley, and center Bob Skuse of Idaho.

Heisman Trophy Goes to Spurrier of Florida; Griese Named Runner-up

NEW YORK (AP) — Steve Spurrier, the University of Florida's triple-threat quarterback, was an overwhelming choice Tuesday for the Heisman Trophy, symbol of the best college football player of the year. The talented, 21-year-old senior thus became a prize plum for the pros — a possible $400,000-plus bonus baby. The floundering New York Giants of the National League are slated to have

Trapshoot

BERGER — A turkey and bacon trapshoot will be conducted at 12:30 p.m. Saturday by Boy Scout Troop No. 8, Hollister, at the range located one-quarter mile north of the Berger Store on U. S. Highway 93.

Proceeds of the event will be used to provide a lighted softball field.

Robertson, Cutler Win Golf Event

John Robertson and Dr. Cutler shot a net 58 to win the team event in the annual Blue Lakes Country Club Thanksgiving turkey shoot.

Jim Sinclair and Jim Henry were second with a 59. Sinclair also took the low gross award with a 71.

Low net honors went to Lynn Stewart with a 63 while Dick Serpa and Fred Maltz tied for second with 67.

The club's fall best ball championship went to Sinclair and Gordon Edgar when they defeated Spec Haslam and Jack Trefield 1 up.

Club pro Dave Killen announced that Nov. 30 will be the annual men's golfing association meeting, featuring a match between the Barretts and Killens.

He urged all interested members to sign up for 18 holes and sign party following.

MVCC Scores Upset in Rupert AAU Cage Play

RUPERT — Maple Valley Christian College held Bonanza Motors of Rupert to two points in the final quarter Tuesday night to score a come from behind 57-42 upset victory in opening night action of the Rupert AAU Basketball League.

MVCC was trailing 40-34 going into the fourth quarter and allowed only two points by Glenn Schenk the rest of the way. Tom Larsen hit 23 points for the college.

In other games Times-News smashed Fenwick's Sporting Goods of Burley 78-48 behind the 18-point shooting of Nick Fisher and Raft River Electric trounced Ore-Ida Foods 64-39 in which was considered an upset. Key Harper collected 21 points for the Malta team.

Wednesday night's schedule pits Olympia Beer against Don's Quality Meats at 7 p.m. at the Minico gym followed by Pizza Haven vs. Parker's Laundry at 8:15 and O.W.'s Cafe vs. Goode Motor at 9:30.

HOLDS EDGE
NEW YORK (AP) — Kansas City, doing most of its traveling along the ground, continues to hold a wide edge in the American Football League.

First pick under an agreement in the NFL-AFL merger, and Spurrier says he is definitely interested.

"There are a lot of quarterbacks who signed for big bonuses," Spurrier said in a telephone interview with New York writers from the Florida campus at Gainesville. "I think I am as good as they are."

He declined to name anyone specifically but added: "You know who they are." He apparently was referring to Joe Namath, the Alabama star who got $400,000 for signing with the New York Jets.

The Heisman Trophy winner said he understood the Giants were interested in him but he would leave the matter up to his attorney, Leo O'Neal, to be hammered out at the end of the season.

"We have two more tough games left — Miami this week and then Georgia Tech in the Orange Bowl," Spurrier said. "I don't do anything until we have played these games."

The 6-2, 205-pound minster's son, who broke the 19-year-old Southeastern Conference passing record held by Charlie Connerly of Mississippi, was a running choice in the balloting among 588 electors on the Heisman Board.

He received 433 first place votes, 159 second and 99 third for a total of 1,673 points.

Second was Bob Griese, Purdue University quarterback, with 184 firsts and 916 points. Then followed halfback Nick Eddy of Notre Dame, 458 firsts, 1,514 points.

Other quarterbacks: Floyd Little, Syracuse halfback, 296, and Clint Jones, Michigan State halfback, 204.

Others receiving votes, in order, were Mel Farr, Southern California, 115; Terry Hanratty, Notre Dame, 85; Lloyd Phillips, Arkansas, 67; George Patton, Georgia, 66; Virgil Carter, Brigham Young, 51; Wayne Woylan, Nebraska, 51; Pete Pfler, Oregon State, 49; and Lennie Snow, Georgia Tech, 48.

In leading Florida to an 8-1 record, losing only to Georgia, Spurrier collected 153 of 242 passes for 332 percentage and 1,758 yards.

A pressure player, he won the Florida State and North Carolina State games with late passes. His 40-yard field goal beat Auburn 30-7. He runs and punts as well as passes and places kicks.

WYOMING ACCEPTS SUN BOWL BID
LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming Athletic Director Glenn Red Jacoby announced Tuesday night the Wyoming Cowboys have voted to accept a bid to the Sun Bowl football game in El Paso, Tex., Dec. 24.

Jacoby said the Wyoming team voted its acceptance at a squad meeting late Monday night.

Wyoming won the Western Athletic Conference crown with a 47-14 victory over Brigham Young Saturday. They finished with a 9-0 WAC record and were undefeated.

The team will resume drills Dec. 5.

Vandal Film

Final film of the season pitting the University of Idaho against Weber State will be shown at 7 a.m. Friday at the Rogerson Motor Inn, announced Vandal Booster President Hank Woodall.

"This one shows Ray McDonald setting the rushing record that earned him the national back of the week award," Woodall said. "It's also the last chance for area fans to see Tim Levens and Joe McCollum in action."

Woodall said all those attending will be served a free continental breakfast.

Rich Figures To Be Among Point Leaders

"In the winter time I go to school and play basketball. In the summertime I go to the beach and play basketball."

And playing it well enough to wind up the youngest man on the brand new College of Southern Idaho basketball team is 6-foot, 1-inch Mark Rich, a Brooklyn product, Rich was raised "about 100 yards" from Coney Island, but the hoops were the major attraction for the young man.

He attended Lincoln High School and averaged 19 points as a junior and 20 as a senior. He also was an all-district pick for two years, not bad for a man playing for a losing team.

"Mark is making great progress here," says Coach Ed Sutton. "He's a fine shooter. He was 'weak' defensively but he's worked hard on that part of his game and it won't be long before he becomes a good defender."

Rich, who is also the happy-go-lucky on the club, is majoring in education and hopes to go into coaching.

Falls will cast his athletic lot with the Boise schools.

"There is only one way to become the best and that is to play the best," says Ed. "We believe the best football in the intermountain area is played by the Boise schools and the SIC and we want to challenge them ever year. They may beat us nine out of 10 years but that one season makes up for the other nine."

The crux of the matter seems to be Borah, which has dominated the conference since being admitted and generally is considered to be the power of the state, particularly in football.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

"John, has he said what he'd allow on this old sub?"

Carnival

"Could you use the phone? Certainly... it's in the hall. Just follow that threadbare path in the rug!"

Major Hoops

"Well, you've been quite a change for him. I don't want to say he was necessarily out of shape, but the hardest work he did before you came was lugport home feed for his goldfish."

Out Our Way

"Surprise! I bought a raffle ticket from Dick Hoff and just found out I won this beautiful bird and a box full of fresh swimming trunks. I'll be home with them in a jiffy. What a break!"

Tracy

"Father wants me to hang up now and go study. I'll call you back in a few minutes!"

Oswald tells his son: "You are so lucky! When I was a boy I was taught never to lead away from a king and to lead through strength. There are so many things about bridge you haven't had to learn."

the old theories. He opened the king of spades, looked over dummy and promptly shifted to the nine of diamonds, whereupon the South proceeded to take the remaining tricks.

Jim: "At least West adhered to his incorrect principles. He didn't lead away from his king and he did lead through strength. Too bad he didn't follow the first principle of card play and think."

Franco's Plans Give Hope to Monarchists

MADRID (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco's proposals to put Spain on the road to limited democratic monarchy gave hope today to the monarchists and nothing much to the 73-year-old dictator's opposition.

Some critics charged Franco's proposals were only a subtle means to assure continuation of his regime.

Others looked forward to the change as a liberalization after 27 years of dictatorship.

The country's 32 million people still do not know who their next chief of state will be — or when he will take over from Franco. But they know he is scheduled to be a king and how he will be chosen.

The leading contenders are Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, 28-year-old grandson of the last king who is considered Franco's choice, and the prince's father, Don Juan, a 54-year-old exile in Portugal.

Franco made his proposals Tuesday in a long-awaited address to the Cortes (Parliament), which immediately approved the laws by acclamation. They will be submitted to a national referendum — Spain's second in 30 years — expected to be Dec. 14. Approval is considered certain.

Franco offered to snip off some of his autocratic powers but kept his ban on political parties.

"With us a genuine, orderly and effective democracy excludes political parties, but this in no way implies the exclusion of the legitimate contrast of opinions," he said.

Opposition sources said this decision, not included in the new laws, could drive such moderate groups as the Socialists and the Christian Democrats underground. Oppositionists who had hoped to work in cooperation with the ruling regime said Franco's declaration ruled out a legitimate opposition.

Among the major changes, Franco proposed: —When Franco dies or becomes incapacitated, he will be succeeded by a king nominated by the Council of the Realm and the Cabinet and ratified by the Cortes. Nominees must be 30, Catholics of royal blood and approved by his first male heir.

The king's powers would be limited by legislative and advisory bodies, and he would create apart from the chief of state. Franco now holds both posts. The premier would be appointed by the now inactive Council of the Realm to a five-year term. The council also would assume important advisory duties.

The ban on public worship by Spain's 35,000 Protestants would remain — the protected state religion.
